VIMY REGION | Visit the battlefields where brave soldiers fought and fell to end tyranny. Stand by the Vimy Memorial, built so we will never forget and always have a place to pay our respects to the generation that ushered in the birth of our nation. Wind your way through the tunnels used to transport men and materials during battle and the bunkers where Canadian soldiers positioned themselves for fighting. Then travel to the Beaumont-Hamel Newfoundland Memorial—located on the ground where the Newfoundland Regiment launched an offensive with the Allied Forces during the Battle of the Somme.

NORMANDY REGION | On June 6, 1944, Allied troops landed on the beaches of Normandy, launching the campaign that eventually liberated mainland Europe from the Nazis. Monuments, museums, bunkers and cemeteries are a living commemoration of the Battle of Normandy. Witness remnants of the floating roadways and piers built to create an instant port at Arromanches. Learn more about Canada's role in the D-Day landings and the Battle of Normandy at the Juno Beach Centre. This interactive centre honours the war effort made by all Canadians, civilian and military alike, both at home and on the various fronts during the Second World War.

AMSTERDAM REGION | Soak up a liberal vibe as you roam the history-laden streets of Amsterdam, a charming city of canals, cafés and galleries. Enter the poignant wartime past of Amsterdam at Anne Frank House, where the young girl hid with her family from 1942 to 1944 and penned her famous diary, which has been translated into dozens of languages worldwide. In rural Groesbeek, visit the fascinating National Liberation Museum and the cemetery where mostly Canadian soldiers, many of whom died in the Battle of the Rhineland, lie buried.
